Men's Diseases Quickly Cured.

Quick results are desirable. Thorough results are more desirable. The perfect treatment is marked by both promptness and thoroughness in results obtained. I desire to have my work judged from this standpoint. For my methods of treating men's diseases I claim a degree of perfection never before attained. In claiming this I am claiming no more than I can prove, I am claiming no more than I have already proven in hundreds of instances. Every case I treat means one more demonstration. The magnitude of my practice itself testifies to the superiority of my methods. I have reduced the treatment of men's diseases to a science. I treat with accuracy and certainty, and I cure my patients both quickly and permanently.

"WEAKNESS."

This disorder commonly known as "weakness" has for years and generations baffled the efforts of physicians. Yet to this very day a majority of doctors, specialists and non-specialists, are unable to overcome it by methods that have been in constant use for centuries. They do the system with powerful stimulants and tonics calculated to restore nervous force or strength, that is not and never has been lacking, with a result that the functions are temporarily excited to the positive detriment of the patient. Weakness, we will call it for convenience just now, is only a symptom resulting from a chronically swollen and inflamed prostate gland, and is curable by local treatment only. Either early dissection or some other radical operation, such as the removal of the prostate gland, is the only permanent cure. I have permanently cured cases of prostatic enlargement, loss of power, etc., without the giving of a single internal dose, which demonstrates the absolute accuracy of my understanding and treatment of this disorder. In 34 years I have not met a case where I have failed to cure all cases that come to me for treatment. I am equally certain that no treatment other than that which I have perfected can completely and permanently restore strength and vigor.

PILES.

No matter how severe or how long standing, I will permanently cure every case of piles that comes to me for treatment. Though I am constantly curing cases that other physicians have been unable to relieve, my treatment is mild, gentle and safe, and my practice in this disease constantly grows as a result of recommendations from those whom I have cured.

CONTRACTED DISORDERS.

Absolutely safe, and the most thorough treatment of all contracted disorders. If men but realize the danger attending such ailments, they would not think of entering into any of the unskilled hands. I have every particle of inflammation removed, a chronic stage follows just as surely as though the disease had never been. I cure thoroughly. I will not dismiss a patient until every possibility of relapse is past. I treat contracted diseases as no other physician treats them, and I cure thoroughly, less than the usual time required.

STRICTURE.

I cure stricture without cutting or dilating. The treatment I employ is original with me, and has been perfected to a degree that renders a cure an absolute certainty. All stricture, whether of long or short standing, is removed by a process of absorption, and the membrane affected is thoroughly cleansed and restored to a healthy state.

My colored chart explains men's diseases thoroughly, and will aid in making a home diagnosis.

A THRILLING CAREER ENDS.

"Judge" James A. Bean Passes On.

Plainsman, Dead Shot and Soldier.

Single-handed He Captured Five Horse Thieves—Local Police Officer.

James A. Bean, a retired member of the Los Angeles police force, and for many years desk clerk at the Police Station, died yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at his home, No. 1358 West Twentieth street. He had not been well for years, having been afflicted with bronchitis and asthma, but his illness was not such as to confine him to his bed until Monday. Even then his relatives did not think his condition such as to justify alarm. Yesterday afternoon he became unconscious, and symptoms of apoplexy developed. A physician was hurriedly called, but could do nothing for the patient, and after a long period of unconsciousness he died. The remains were taken to the undertaking establishment of Cunningham & O'Connor. The funeral services will be held Thursday, at an hour yet to be decided upon, at St. Vincent's Cathedral, and the interment will probably be in the New Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. Bean was 64 years of age, and crowded into his life were many varied experiences. From early boyhood his was a strenuous life. He was first a soldier, then a pioneer of the rougher country in the West, next a judge of a court, after that a pursuer of noted outlaws, and finally a police officer holding a responsible position. Born in New Hampshire, he moved to Vermont early in life, and at the breaking out of the Civil War enlisted in the Third Vermont Volunteer Infantry. He served in the Army of the Potomac, and at the end of his first enlistment started home on furlough.

PRISONER OF WAR.

While he was in Washington the historic raid of Gen. Early, the dashing Confederate cavalry commander, occurred, and at the time the Confederate forces were within a few miles of the national capital. Every Union man then in Washington was summoned to the defense of the city, and Bean and several others were sent out on that duty. The entire party was captured, and he was a member of the party sent to Andersonville Prison. Bean remained there only a few days, when with a young man from Wisconsin he managed to make his escape. For more than two weeks they struggled through the swamps, hiding during the day and walking at night, and subsisting upon corn which they found on the farms. The Wisconsin man was shot and died, and Bean, becoming exhausted and could not travel further, and Bean, after assuring himself that he could do nothing for his companion, pressed on. When he reached the Union lines he found that several of the bloody deeds of the Peninsula campaign had been fought, and out of his entire company only three men survived. They had been discharged and sent home.

AMONG THE REDSKINS.

After the war he returned home and a few years later went to Omaha. In those days Omaha was on the frontier and west of there was only Indian country. Bean pressed on to Deadwood and began a stringing line as a pioneer in the Black Hills country and Wyoming. He made frequent trips along the trails between the few centers of population in that part of the country. On one of these trips which he made alone, he camped for a night at a small creek and the next morning found the body of a white woman filled with arrows and the body of an Indian shot through the head lying in the bed of the stream. A short distance farther he came upon the scalp of a colored woman and later found the body of a white man riddled with arrows. When he had pitched his camp, he was attacked by a party of Indians. He finally settled in Cheyenne and there became judge of a court and justice of the peace. Subsequently he was a member of the Secret Service force of the Union Pacific Railroad, and spent years in the work of running down horse thieves. He captured five horse thieves by getting the drop on them. His reputation as a dead shot was such that they did not dare resist him.

CAME HERE WITH MONEY.

Fifteen years ago with his family he came to Los Angeles. He possessed a comfortable fortune at that time, but unfortunate investments during the boom depleted his cash account to such an extent that he sought and obtained a position on the police force. He was a crossing officer for a time and later was made desk clerk at Central Station, which position he held until July 2, 1900, when he was retired on account of physical disability. Since then he had done nothing.

He was a man of gruff exterior, but beneath was a kindly disposition which endeared him to those who knew him well. Besides his widow, he leaves a son and a daughter.

HER DEATH HIS UNDOING.

Despondency Over the Loss of His Wife Finally Drives Arthur Eysen to Self-destruction.

Arthur Eysen, one of the best-known German residents of Los Angeles, committed suicide about daylight yesterday morning by shooting himself through the heart with a revolver. The deed was committed in his room in the house of Mrs. Louise Schmidt, No. 901 Buena Vista street, and it is believed that Eysen was temporarily insane. Despondency over the death of his wife, to whom he was devoted, was doubtless responsible for the deed. No one heard the shot, and no note or other writing was left by the deceased to give any clue as to his motive.

When Eysen did not appear at breakfast Mrs. Schmidt in passing his room rapped, but received no response. She then went to his room for an hour, but when he did not appear at a time when she knew he was due to go to work, she went to his room and again knocked at the door. Receiving no response she turned the knob and finding the door unlocked entered it. On the bed near the head was the dead body of Eysen and a pistol at his side and a bullet hole in his left breast showed how he had come to his death. He was dressed only in his underclothing and night shirt. The body was rigid and cold, and Eysen's undertaking establishment, where an inquest will be held.

Eysen was 42 years of age, a native of Germany and had been a resident of Los Angeles about twelve years. Soon after he came here he secured employment in the Crystal Palace, the crockery store owned by Meyberg Bros. on Main street near Second. He remained there a year and then took the position of book-keeper and cashier for Adolf & Haurwass, a grocery store on Broadway. Eysen was a responsible one, but such was Eysen's ability that he filled it with the same thoroughness as if he had been a manager. His employers trusted him implicitly and he arranged his hours of work to suit himself.

The deceased was a prominent member of the Turn Verein Germania, and took great interest in the society. He remained a member of the Germania, and had served in all the chairs of the Golden Rule Lodge, of which he had for years been a member. Personally he was a companionable and a man as one would care to meet; and that he would take his own life was never suspected by his friends, although some of them knew that he was subject to periodical attacks of melancholy.

ACADEMY OF SCIENCES.

Interesting Subjects Treated at Annual Reception Last Night—President-elect Defines the Institution's Work.

The annual reception by the local Academy of Sciences was given last evening in the Woman's Club House. There was a large attendance. Abbot Kinney gave an interesting and instructive lecture on "The Evolution of the Forest Trees of Southern California Without Being a Botanist." The lecture was illustrated with specimens of cones, leaves, etc.

Prof. John Lloyd, president of the Eclectic Medical college of Cincinnati, O., delivered an address on the "Mastodon of Kentucky."

Dr. Comstock, the president-elect of the society, read a paper on the "Mission of the Eclectic Medical College of Cincinnati." In the course of his remarks Dr. Comstock said:

"Gradually but determinedly there has been a growth and systematic body of America along lines identical with the progress of half a century in research, invention and economics. My thesis is that the local academy best subserves its end when, without losing sight of the value of original research, it provides, in a restricted degree, much the same advantages and security in minor measure similar to those of the American Association. These are stated in the preamble to the constitution of the local academy, and more systematic direction to scientific research, and to procure for the academy a wider usefulness."

Dr. Comstock's paper dealt very minutely with the aims and the possibilities of the local academy, and was closed with an exhortation to the members to hold up their end and lend a helping hand to the work.

A musical programme was rendered by Miss O'Donoghue, pianist; Miss Johnson, violinist, and Mrs. Plummer, vocalist. R. Baumgardt, recited. The retiring president, W. H. Knight, who was on the programme for an address, excused himself on account of the lateness of the hour.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Nestor C. Knight, son of Rev. Will A. Knight, Expires Unexpectedly at His Home.

The very sudden death, last night, of Nestor C. Knight, son of Rev. Will A. Knight, of this city, occasions a number of expressions of sympathy. Young Mr. Knight was a copper-plate pressman, and was employed at different times in well-known establishments in this city. He has for some years been troubled with weak lungs, but was always cheerful, and his death was not anticipated. Last night as he sat at the dinner table at his home, No. 159 West Third street, he suddenly died of a hemorrhage and died within five minutes.

The deceased was married to Miss Julia Knight, of this city, who survives him, together with one child, Mildred E. Knight. He was a brother of Mrs. Annie M. Lee, Mrs. Walter T. Clark, Misses Maggie C. and Addie M. Knight, and Warren W. and J. O. Knight.

The funeral will be held at Vincent M. E. Church, tomorrow at 2 o'clock. The deceased was in his twenty-seventh year.

HOSPITAL IS TO BE BUILT.

Methodists Launch Big Undertaking.

Trustees of the U.S.C. Back it Up.

Another Great Philanthropic Institution Assured to Los Angeles.

At the annual banquet of the Medical College tonight one of the biggest undertakings the University of Southern California has ventured upon will be announced.

It is the building of a magnificent hospital fitted up with all modern conveniences and backed by the institution and 15,000 loyal Methodists.

The hospital will be built and operated upon the same lines as the general hospital of the University of Brooklyn, N. Y., which is one of the largest and best equipped hospitals in the world. Each of the various Methodist Churches of this section will maintain a room or rooms for the hospital.

It will be a benevolent institution where people of moderate means can go and receive as good medical and surgical attention as the city affords, at a moderate cost.

Behind closed doors, at the meeting of the Board of Trustees at Simpson Auditorium yesterday the enterprise was discussed and heartily endorsed. It was the consensus of opinion that the university had come to that degree of strength and vigor which would enable her to take up the proposition, and carry it to a successful conclusion.

For some months past Bishop Haggin, president of the Board of Trustees, has been interested in the scheme and is one of its most earnest supporters. President Geo. P. Boyard, secretary, E. A. Healy and Rev. Dr. Knight were appointed a special committee to have charge of the matter and push it forward as rapidly as possible.

Already some plans have been made for securing the necessary funds and prospects are bright for a large endowment. Strong hopes are cherished that all branches of the Methodist Church will unite in the great enterprise.

Other matters of importance were discussed and acted upon by the trustees at their annual meeting. The trustees of the University of Southern California, a proposition to the town of North Ontario, offering to give the town the college campus, all the buildings and one half of the net income is estimated at between $30,000 and $100,000 and the net income is about $4000 or $5000 per annum.

The Ontario board of public school trustees sent out postal cards asking the people whether or not they wished to accept the offer. Although they sent out 600 cards, they received but 212 replies, and the trustees were forced to accept the offer. The trustees of the University of Southern California adopted resolutions yesterday stating that inasmuch as the people of Ontario did not desire to accept their offer they had withdrawn the proposition, and instructed the Chaffey College trustees to carry out the provisions of their trust.

This leaves the proposition in the same condition as before with neither side having the advantage.

Dean Randall in his report made a feeble plea for a gymnasium. He won the day, and the Executive Committee was instructed to take the matter up at once and find some means for building and equipping an up-to-date gymnasium.

Rev. E. A. Healy, the secretary, dwelt upon the reports of the officers and committees, and said the college as a college had never been in such a prosperous condition. Field Agent C. Miller reported that the second $100,000 bond issue had been sold at a premium of 100 cents, making $100,000 to her donations, making about $60,000 that she has given to the endowment of the institution.

The university catalogues were received from the printer yesterday. They are among the largest and most complete ever issued by the school. This afternoon the annual class-day exercises will be held on the campus.

CALM FOLLOWS WAR.

Electric Railway Company Takes No Further Action in Compton-avenue Matter—Brief Railroad Notes.

There were no developments yesterday in the Compton-avenue track-laying case, and the entire matter probably will rest until United States Judge Wilbourn renders a decision as to the title of the "freight-carrying" franchise.

When the sun rose yesterday morning, Monday's work of 450 surfacers and pack-layers had been undone by a gang of city laborers who worked all night, and rails and ties were strewn promiscuously for a distance of 1500 feet north of Stauson avenue. Compton avenue is badly torn up and a great amount of grading will be necessary to restore it to its former condition.

General Manager Egan Randolph of the Pacific Electric Railway Company is not disturbed by the action of the municipal authorities. He says they "acted foolishly," and in any case, his company will not suffer from the tearing up of the tracks.

"If a decision in my favor is rendered in the Federal Court," he said, "we shall have the right to lay our tracks as has been caused. If the decision is against us, we are obliged to the city for doing work that would have cost us considerable money."

RAILROAD NOTES.

Several of the new suburban cars of the Pacific Electric Railway were placed in service yesterday on the Pasadena line. They are extremely popular with passengers, as they are "double enders," having six outside seats at each end. The old cars on the line have open seats only at one end.

A large shipment of motors for the equipment of the new Long Beach line was received yesterday at the Long Beach depot. The cars, which have been greatly delayed in transit from the East, but will arrive, it is expected, in time for the opening of the line by July 4. The work of track laying into Long Beach is progressing at a rapid rate and General Manager Randolph said yesterday that the line undoubtedly will open on time.

The first standard gauge street railway system to be operated in Los Angeles is the East Ninth street line of the Pacific Electric, on which cars are being run regularly from Main to Tennessee street. Only one track is open at present, but the second track is nearly completed and will be used when business demands. One of the new cars of the Long Beach line is handling the traffic on the East Ninth street line.

During the absence of G. A. Ocheltree, chief clerk to G. A. Parkyn, of the Southern Pacific, R. A. Thelen is acting chief clerk. Mr. Ocheltree is in San Francisco with the Shriners.

San R. Dray, well known here in connection with the Burlington office, has been made city ticket agent of that road at Denver.

Several slight changes were reported at the Arcade depot. Thomas McCaffery, train master, who hereafter have authority over all trainmen, road men and station men, on the division.

J. B. Harrison is made assistant train master, with headquarters at Indio.

J. Griffin is made yard master at Redondo station.

A. H. Seckatz is station master at the Arcade.

John R. Winters, believed to have been a printer of Oakland, Cal., committed suicide in Chicago yesterday by shooting himself through the head.

CAUSED PANIC ON THE TRAIN.

Crazy Huber Alarmed the Passengers.

Dangerous Lunatic at His Old Tricks.

Met at the Depot by Los Angeles Officers and Taken to Hospital.

There was great excitement on a Southern Pacific train, due at this city between 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday noon. Charles E. Huber, well known in Los Angeles as the eccentric brother of Mrs. Emmeline Childs, who recently sold her magnificent home on South Main street to H. E. Huntington, had taken the train at San Francisco to come to this city. It soon became apparent to his fellow passengers that he was insane, and before the train reached this city there was something like a panic. The trainmen did the best they could to keep him down, and telegraphed ahead to have officers at the station to take charge of him. He was known as a man who had played with guns.

He was very wild on the train, and talked loud and long. He harmed no one, but with his threats kept everybody in a constant state of apprehension. His hallucination was in connection with a wonderful life-giving elixir, which he had discovered, and which was destined to make him many times a millionaire. By way of variety, he threw in a few statements as to his having purchased the Palace Hotel, the Russ House, the Chronicle and a few other trifling bits of property, before starting home.

When the train arrived here it was met by Deputy Sheriff Werdin and several other officers. Werdin is well known to Huber, and the latter readily consented to take a carriage with the officers. He soon discovered, however, that the carriage was going toward the County Hospital instead of to his home, and he became very excited. He was easily quieted and without difficulty placed in the insane ward. He declared that if he was placed in an insane asylum he would first make certain people bite the dust and would then but his own brains out against a wall. He had a wild spell after the officers left, but last night was perfectly tractable when humored, talked a great length about his elixir of life, and did not seem to realize that he was in a place of detention.

His only attempt at violence was when the porter of the train approached him, after he was in charge of Deputy Werdin. He must have suspected the porter of having refused a tip, and was about to annihilate the fellow, when Werdin restrained him with some difficulty.

Huber has on different occasions brought himself into public notice by his violent acts. As a tenant for sub-division properties in Chinatown, he several years ago appeared before the Board of Police Commissioners and charged them with interfering with his tenants, in their efforts to suppress the Chinese lotteries. He also threatened to kill the police officers should they interfere with his tenants. He was arrested at one time, and at another held a position as a deputy sheriff.

The culmination of Huber's folly came last night. On the night of October 3, 1900, he went to the home of Mrs. Childs on Main street, armed with a shotgun, to demand payment of $100, which he declared his sister owed him. Mrs. Childs had notice of his intention through threatening letters which Huber had written, and he was refused admission, and the police notified by telephone. He escaped under cover of the trees which flanked the elegant grounds about the Childs mansion, but not until he had smashed some fine glass panels from the door. The broken several windows with the butt of his shotgun.

On the following day an insanity complaint was lodged against him and a siege laid at his residence, No. 836 South Broadway, on the night of October 9, for the purpose of arresting him. He was, however, found armed with a gun and stationed at his front door, where he stood off the sight police officers who went to accomplish his arrest, and he was finally induced to surrender by the Los Angeles neighbors. He was confined in the County Hospital until December 10.

ROYAL VISITORS COMING.

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—The World's Fair management has received information from Washington of approaching visits to St. Louis of two members of the royal families. The Grand Duke Boris of Russia, cousin of the Czar, is expected to arrive in a few weeks. After visiting St. Louis and accepting hospitality of the city and investigating the World's Fair, the Grand Duke will go to Chicago and thence eastward by way of Niagara Falls. A little later will begin the visit of the Crown Prince of Siam, who is now in Great Britain.

To Make Room for a New Brick Block.

B. F. LEWIS & CO. BROKERS.

The old adobe building on the north side of First street between Spring and Broadway, and just west of the Larronde Block, which is now being torn down to make room for a three-story brick office building is one of the landmarks of the city. It was built by Frank J. Carpenter, fifty-five years ago, and was the home of Mr. Carpenter and his family for thirty-nine years. Mr. Carpenter was at the time of the erection of the building, and for a number of years afterward, the jailer of this county. The jail was then located in the rear of the adobe building on a lot now occupied by the Phillips Block. In buying the site for his home, Mr. Carpenter purchased the entire frontage on First street between Fort street (now Broadway) and the present Larronde Block, about 165 feet for $15. The building includes the lots upon which The Times building, and other fine business blocks now stand. These properties were purchased, some of them by their present owners, from the Carpenter estate. The plot upon which the homestead
